

ISTITUTO DI STUDI GIURIDICI INTERNAZIONALI - ISGI
INSTITUTE FOR INTERNATIONAL LEGAL STUDIES - IILS

Lecture by Dr Ornella Ferrajolo

within the Master's Degree in Advanced International Legal Studies
University of Verona - Centro Italiano Studi sulla Conciliazione Internazionale

Part 1. International Legal Studies and New Trends in International Law.

Part. 2. A Case-Study: The International Criminal Court.

Rome, 3 February 2005, 3.00 p.m.

ISGI, via dei Taurini, 19 – Conference Room “A”

International Legal Studies and New Trends in International Law

1. International Law in a Global Society
2. The Evolution of International Customary Law
3. The Evolution of International Institutional Law
4. Developments in Specialised Sectors:
 - a) Human Rights Law
 - b) Environmental Law and Sustainable Development
 - c) Law for New Technologies

A Case-Study: The International Criminal Court

1. Introduction
2. The Rome Statute and Relating Legal Instruments
3. Crimes within the Competence of the Court
4. State Consent as the Legal Basis for the Court's Jurisdiction
5. The Complementary Jurisdiction of the Court with Respect to National Tribunals
6. Referral by States: First Implementing Practice
7. The Powers of the UN Security Council under the Statute
8. Co-operation between the Court and the United Nations: The Negotiated Relationship Agreement