

.. there is a clear need for deep reflection on fundamental ethics and religious values and the possible role of law in pursuing the aim of restoring the traditional, or promoting a new, relationship/equilibrium between man and nature ..